

AWLP Lymphoma Course and Workshop
9-10 November 2011
Hilton, Cardiff City Centre

PRELIMINARY PROGRAMME and REGISTRATION FORM

This course and workshop are designed for more experienced trainees in Histopathology, Haematology and Oncology but also as an update for lymphoma pathology specialists. It is intended to provide an overview of the diagnostic principles, with a detailed display of reactive lymphoproliferations, lymphomas and leukaemias. Part of the course will address diagnostic methodology including immunohistochemistry, flow cytometry, conventional cytogenetics and molecular techniques. Special emphasis is paid to bone marrow assessment and cutaneous lymphoproliferations. A segment of the course will provide an update of the recent classification changes, newly emerged issues and contentious diagnostic areas. The workshop will illustrate the integrated laboratory approach to diagnosis and value of clinical liaison in the Multidisciplinary Team setting through a staged Multidisciplinary Laboratory Meeting with participation of clinicians. The histological and immunocytochemistry slides for the workshop will be available as online virtual slides and will be presented to the participants as a DVD teaching collection.
